

“Lottery is unable to take a position until it has assessed potential impacts. Because the bill would use lottery revenue instead of covid-relief or other funds, the permanent increase in operating costs would necessarily be funded by reducing: contributions to the School Aid Fund, sales-incentive commissions to retailers, or prizes to players (which could result in lower sales and players seeking alternative gaming options).”